

Legacy Press Goes Green

San Diego, CA (January 5, 2010) Legacy Press (www.LegacyXPress.com) announced today that their books have been certified by the Forest Stewardship Council (FSC). Beginning on January 1, 2010 all print runs for their entire catalog of books will be printed on paper that has earned the FSC Certification. FSC is widely regarded as one of the most important initiatives of the last decade because using paper from sustainable forests helps reduce carbon footprint.

Forests can be instrumental in achieving emissions reduction targets, providing a quarter of needed climate solutions through 2020, according to the analysis by Resources for the Future, a Washington-based research institution, and consulting group Climate Advisers.

FSC is a certification system that provides internationally recognized standard-setting, trademark assurance and accreditation services to companies, organizations and communities interested in responsible forestry. FSC certified paper products are identified by the FSC certification logo.

Daniel Miley, CEO of Rainbow Publishers, discussed the significance of the FSC logo in each new book they print: "Our team has worked diligently with our supply partners to find responsible paper sourcing and with FSC to earn this certification. While we are proud to display the FSC logo in our new books, we are prouder of its meaning: that we take seriously our responsibility to be good stewards of God's creation."

Rainbow Publishers has also obtained an SFI Certification for books in its Rainbow Publishers (www.RainbowPublishers.com) division.

About Forest Stewardship Council

The FSC is a not-for-profit, organization that develops standards and certifies that wood harvesting is done within their environmentally conscious standards from responsibly managed forests.
